Make This Noteworthy Occasion More Special with #PilotLoveGuru

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (FEBUARY 10, 2015) – Valentine’s Day is the one day a year designated for us to let our loved ones know how much we care. For centuries, great love has been commemorated with a handwritten love note. However, in this hectic digital age it is often difficult to sit down to pen and post a Valentines’ Day message. That’s where the Pilot Corporation of America (Pilot Pen) ‘Love Guru’ can help! Pilot Love Guru brings the heartfelt written word into the digital space by creating custom one-of-a-kind handwritten notes to send to those we love through Facebook (Pilot Pen), Twitter (@PilotPenUSA), Instagram (@PilotPenUSA) and Instagram (@PilotPenUSA). This is the third year of #PilotLoveGuru, and Pilot has already played cupid for hundreds of lovers and friends.

This year Pilot is inviting everyone who enjoys giving or receiving handwritten messages of love to join us in this celebration of written words of affection by tagging your loved one on social media using #PilotLoveGuru. “It’s important to share heartfelt sentiments all year round, but noteworthy occasions like Valentine’s Day provide the opportunity for us to stop and think about those we love,” said Ariann Langsam, Director of Consumer Marketing at Pilot. “There’s a unique magic that happens when pen meets paper, and we want to make it simple for our followers and friends to share that magic in the digital realm.”

Follow these three simple steps to join in the handwritten #PilotLoveGuru movement this Valentine’s Day:

Step 1: Tweet, tag, comment or share your sweetheart or Valentine’s name to Pilot using #PilotLoveGuru on Instagram, Twitter or Facebook

Step 2: The specially trained Love Gurus at Pilot will handwrite a personalized and heartfelt note and send it to your Valentine via the selected social network
